The Democratic-Greenback Nominee. From the Kittanning Free Press. The result of the Democratic and Greenback Congressional Conference is best expressed by an interview we had with a prominent Democrat and Greenbacker respectively. Calling on our Democratic friend we said:

"Well, you have had your Congressional Conference and nominated a candidate, a Mr. Patton, I believe. What do you think of it?" "Think of it," said he, "think of it, I think very little of it. I'll not mix each stuff with my pure Democracy. I'd rather have Harry White, a prominent Republican, at once."

Continuing, he said: "This fusion business is very distasteful to me anyhow, for I am a Democrat and believe in old-fashioned honest money Democracy. No Greenback mixtures for me. Who is this man Patton? Who can say whether he comes up to the Jeffersonian test for high office—capability and honesty. Nobody seems to regard him as fit. Now I am tired voting for mere figure-heads. I want a good capable representative in Congress. Why, the Greenbackers dictated this nomination and we Democrats are expected to swallow it whole and ask no questions. I for one won't do it. They tell me this man Patton started voting as a Kuon Nothing, then was a Republican till the Greenbackers came up, voted with them but voted for Hancock and then voted with the Greenbackers again last year. Now what a record that is to present to the honest voters of Armstrong county. Why the conference did not make any platform of principles or pass any resolutions for the candidate to stand upon. It seems they were afraid to do this. This is too bad. I'll not sanction any such proceeding or vote for any such candidate. I want you to believe me that I would rather suffer defeat voting for a square, able Democrat for Congress than to elect some Greenback fusion fellow who don't represent my convictions. No, sir; I, as a Democrat, will not vote for Patton—mind that."

While saying this, our Democratic neighbor became warm, earnest and indignant, and seemed to speak from the heart. Wanting further information we met a prominent Greenbacker, and after friendly greeting, said: "How about your nominee for Congress?"

The response was: "Oh, he'll do, I guess. I don't know much about Mr. Patton, but from what I hear of him, he and I have been of the same mind in politics. He was an old Kuon Nothing, then Republican and now Greenbacker. We Greenbackers got the best of the Democrats in this nomination. Can you tell me anything about Mr. Patton personally?"

We replied we could not tell much about him, as we had never heard of him before. "Well," continued our Greenback friend, "they say Patton is a sort of money lender over in Indiana and has no ability for a Congressman. I must confess I would like to have had a man that could have represented us well and defended our doctrines on the floor of Congress. Patton can't do that, I guess. I'll know more about him after while. But you may put it down for a fact that we Greenbackers are going to rule the country. We hope to elect a President in '84—Mind that?"

So we left our hopeful Greenback friend. Indeed, the Greenbackers, what few there are of them, seem to grow strong in hope on the thinnest kind of rations.

Now we have from different standpoints viewed the outlook about the Congressional Conference. The effort at fusion is abortive. The time for that nonsense is past. The Democratic party, we opine, can't be banded bodily to the Greenbackers, nor vice versa.

In talking with several other members of each party they had but little to say and do not have a particle of enthusiasm. Many Greenbackers say they can't go Patton because he bolted their ticket in 1880, and the Democrats say they can't support him because he went with the Greenbackers last year. "What then," they say on both sides, "are we voting for? Is it principle or the man? If principle, what principle does Mr. Patton represent? If for the man, what does he amount to? In business he is small, in politics light, and in statesmanship nothing."

In this way of reasoning, they very readily come to the conclusion that General White is the man who has ability, influence and power, and in every way capable of representing the district, and will therefore vote for him. A very sensible conclusion.

SENATOR BEN HILL, of Georgia, died on the 16th inst., after a long and painful illness. The South loses one of its ablest representatives in his death.

THE Republican Congressional Conference of this, 25th, district will meet in Clarion on Wednesday next, 30th inst., to name the man who will hang Patton's political hide on the fence this fall. Judge Cook, the nominee of this county has selected the following Conferees to act for him: Hon. N. P. Wheeler, Hon. Wm. R. Coon, J. E. Wenk.

ARMSTRONG, the Greenback candidate for Governor, says that Stewart, Independent, is afraid to challenge him. Then why don't Tom challenge Stewart? These two parties are more evenly matched than either one of them would be along side of the Republican or Democratic party. If there is to be any joint discussions between the gubernatorial candidates, let Armstrong and Stewart be pitted against each other. Beaver and Patton can arrange for a set-to likewise.—Indiana Times.

SPEAKING of the passage of the river and harbor bill over the President's veto the Indiana Progress thus hits the nail square on the head. It might not be out of place to state right here that the Greenback party in Congress was equally divided on the "steal"; one-half voting for it and the other half voting against: "The champion of economic reform, Mr. Mosgrove, misrepresenting the Twenty-fifth Congressional district in the House, was at home, not paired, attending to his own private business. In the Senate, that other champion of "reform"—Mitchell—was absent, not paired, shirking his duty to the great State of Pennsylvania. Senator Cameron, the man that the other two fellows are howling to "reform", was in his seat in the Senate, and voted to sustain the veto message of President Arthur; voted against the scheme of wholesale robbery of the treasury. Senator Cameron was true to his constituency; true to his State; true to his high official duty. Senator Mitchell and Representative Mosgrove simply branded their vaunted political policy with deception, proving themselves false to constituency, to State and to official duty. The contrast is complete."

PE-RU-NA. This is a new remedy, originally composed and introduced to the medical profession and the public at large by Dr. H. H. Peabody, M. D., of 27 Pine Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa., who has prescribed it to over 40,000 patients, and in every case with the most gratifying success. Its effect upon the system is entirely healthy, that of any other remedy, and is the only medicine needed in almost every case in which it is used. It is a purely vegetable preparation, and is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, each one, according to medical authorities, a great remedy in itself. The Peabody has succeeded in extracting the active principles from these ingredients, and in combining them into one simple compound, which at once enters into the system, and restores the system to its normal condition. There is not a grain of opium in it, and it does not produce any of the effects of opium. Particulars sent for a pamphlet. Write to H. H. PEABODY & CO., Coburn, Ohio.
